

David Standridge

In 1997 David Standridge founded Standridge Law Firm, P.C. His practice is involved in mediation, arbitration and litigation throughout the State of New Mexico in various courts and administrative hearings. The area his practice has been focused on is primarily family law matters, estate planning and litigation, personal injury, criminal law and immigration matters. He has published articles relating to family law matters and has testified before Congress regarding complex litigation of educational issues in Albuquerque Public Schools.

Some of his professional development and experience has included testifying before the United State House of Representatives regarding reforming Bilingual Education; guest speaker at Men's Conference for Believers Center of Albuquerque; speaker at Storm Youth Conference; author of "Reclaiming the Warrior Spirit"; Hispanic Heritage Committee member for the City of Albuquerque; Arbitrator/Mediator pool for the Second Judicial District Court.

Other community involvement activities he is involved in include Little League coach at Zia and Altamont Little Leagues; volunteering in the hospitality department with Believers Center of Albuquerque; Board Member of Families Against Confiscatory Child Support; Children's Church volunteer; and Project Love Albuquerque Food Drive.