

Municipal Equality Index (MEI)

Enclosed, please find your city's final scorecard for the 2022 Municipal Equality Index (MEI). As you know from our previous correspondence, the 2022 MEI is a nationwide evaluation of 506 cities on how inclusive cities' laws, policies, and services are of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer (LGBTQ+) people. The window to submit revisions to the 2022 scorecards is now closed.

As a reminder, we ask that you keep this scorecard strictly confidential. We believe that communicating fully and honestly with the cities being rated is a critical part of the project's success, and when cities compromise the confidence of the project, they do so at the expense of the other cities being rated.

Throughout the year, we will have many resources available to help you improve your city's score in 2023, including sample policy language, issue briefs, and regular webinars.

Thank you for your participation in this project. The 2022 MEI will be released on November 17 and we will make scorecards public at that time on hrc.org/mei. All press-related questions should be directed to press@hrc.org and any questions related to the MEI scorecard should be sent to mei@hrc.org.

We look forward to working with you again in 2023!

Sincerely,
The MEI Team

 On June 15, 2020, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in Bostock v. Clayton County, Georgia that sexual orientation and gender identity discrimination are prohibited under federal sex-based employment protections. Nevertheless, it is imperative that localities continue enacting explicitly LGBTQ+-inclusive comprehensive non-discrimination laws since it will likely take additional litigation for Bostock to be fully applied to all sex-based protections under existing federal civil rights law. Moreover, federal law currently lacks sex-based protections in numerous key areas of life, including public spaces and services. Lastly, there are many invaluable benefits to localizing inclusive protections even when they exist on higher levels of government. For these reasons, the MEI will continue to only award credit in Part I for state, county, or municipal non-discrimination laws that expressly include sexual orientation and gender identity. Credit may be awarded on the state level if a state has definitively applied Bostock’s reasoning to include LGBTQ+ people under state sex non-discrimination protections.
