#WE SEE YOU

On March 31st, Crime Scene Specialists (CSS) S. Oates and K. O'Connell gave a CSI presentation at El Dorado high school. Every year Mr. Wellman asks different APD departments to make a presentation to his social psychology class about crime scene investigation. CSS Oates and O'Connell gave the students a basic overview of what they do at crime scenes and taught the students how to take fingerprints. The students asked many in-depth questions and expressed interest in the job. Some of the students were also interested in going on a ride along.

When Officer T. Wolffbrandt responded to a residential burglary, he discovered that not only had the family been burglarized two weeks prior to this incident, but it also happened to be the mother's birthday. Before he left the call, Officer Wolffbrandt contacted the rest of his squad at the Valley Area Command who donated money to help. Officer Wolffbrandt presented the family with party supplies and a gift card courtesy of the officers. CSS S. Oates who also responded to the scene, baked a birthday cake for the mother.

DWI Enforcement

In their quest to keep the citizens of Albuquerque safe, APD conducted a DWI checkpoint for St. Patrick's Day. A total of 611 vehicles went through the checkpoint, resulting in ten arrests and two seized vehicles. There were 41 ride-sharing services (Uber/Lyft/Taxi companies) that also passed through the checkpoint. Thank you to everyone who made the right decision to not drink-and-drive after enjoying the holiday. Also a big thanks to APD supporters who brought snacks and support DWI enforcement!
